IMPORTANT GUIDELINES

- All inserts must be of uniform thickness (eg: no half fold on one side of insert.)
- All flaps must be closed. Some inserts may require the flat to be glued to avoid opening during production.
- Double spines are not acceptable (eg: two sections glued together on the spine to make one). One must be inside the other.
- Inserts inside inserts are not permitted.
- Inserts must be the same weight.
- Heavier weighted covers may not be accepted.

SINGLE SHEET INSERTS

- Minimum size: Petone & Christchurch 210mm x 100mm. NZME 210mm x 145mm.
- Maximum size: 297mm x 210mm.
- Minimum paper weight: 150gsm.
- Maximum paper weight: 300gsm.

SHAPED INSERTS

- All inserts must have square corners. Unusual shapes need to be checked by the inserts manager before production.

Insert requirements: Compact & broadsheet, binding & mechanical

Materials not meeting the requirements listed may not be inserted.

COMPACT INSERTS

DIAGRAM 1

- If you elect to use 4 and 8 page compact inserts then they must be folded in half (compact size is considered any size where both edges are or exceed 235mm x 235mm).

Diagram 1:

BROADSHEET INSERTS

DIAGRAM 3

- 2 page (single) broadsheets and 4 page (double) broadsheets must be folded into quarters. 6 plus pages folded once (ie: in half).

Diagram 2: Example of 8 pages = 4 leaves

Diagram 3: Concertina folds are not acceptable.

BINDING

- Multiple page inserts below 24 pages should be gummed rather than stapled.
- Glued inserts are preferred, but stapled products are accepted.
- Staples must be thinner than the product and placed perfectly in the fold.
- Above 23 pages the size of staple is not as critical.
- Perfect Bound is not accepted

MECHANICAL INSERTING

- Stuff production equipment allows the insertion of advertising brochures or booklets mechanically at approximately 30,000 copies per hour.
- The inserting material is placed into hoppers, which separates each insert and feeds it into a single gripper conveyor, which delivers it to the newspaper.
- The reason for such detailed packing and delivery instructions is to ensure we receive the inserts in the best possible condition to ensure a seamless process from pallet to paper.
- Inserts which are poorly packed or not completely dry, will not feed through the hoppers.
- Good quality inserts will:
 - Ensure each copy of the newspaper has an insert.
 - Keep our customers happy.
 - Prevent damage to machinery.
 - Prevent productions delays.

Insert requirements: Packing specifications

PALLET PACKING

- Individual inserts must be capable of slipping against facing surfaces of other inserts and not cling/stick to each other after packaging.
- Ensure all ink is totally dry before stacking, boxing or strapping. Ideally a slipping agent should be added to the ink to reduce any chances of adhesion between inserts.
- Make sure that inserts are kept perfectly flat with tight folds. Edges should be free of wrinkles and other distortions.
- Curled edges or ballooned inserts will be rejected.
- Inserts must be turned in 50's, 75's, 100's within a bundle, so that the turned height is between 75mm and 100mm thick.
- Bundle turns: 20 pages plus must be turned in multiples of 100. 18 pages or under must be turned in multiples of 200.
- If bundles are strapped, use the widest practical strapping and make sure the strapping does not damage the bundle.

- Use sturdy pieces of cardboard at even intervals throughout the stack to help keep the inserts flat. Gaps between bundles on the pallets should be kept to a minimum.
- Inserts should not protrude over the edges of pallets and outside edges should be vertically even.
- All pallets must have corner posts to minimise damage to bundles.
- Pallets without a solid, smooth base will require a piece of wood or heavy piece of cardboard before stacking.
- To prevent strap damage when strapping a whole pallet, a solid piece of wood the size of the base pallet must be laid on top of the stacked bundles.
- To prevent the bundles moving during transportation and to avoid damaging the bundles, pallets should be strapped four ways as illustrated on the next page.
- For further protection, either wrap or shrink wrap the pallet in plastic.

Packing specifications and delivery

- Pallets must contain only the inserts for one publication. If a pallet has inserts for multiple publications on it, it may not be accepted.
- A minimum fee of $400 will be charged if Stuff is required to re-bundle any material that does not meet our specifications.

PALLET DIMENSIONS

- No broken or damaged timbers please.
- Maximum height of pallets (including runners) is 1,200mm. Maximum weight must not exceed 1,000kg.
- To allow proper handling using forklifts or handtrucks, runner heights must be lower than 100mm.
- Ideally we would prefer to have bundles on the pallets with no strapping, shrink wrapped and corners protected with minimum turns.

BOXED INSERTS

- If problems are envisaged such as damage or creasing of inserts due to the turn size requirement, please contact: inserts@stuff.co.nz
- If inserts are unable to be bulk stacked due to their shape or size, then they should be packed with the same number of inserts and labelled with:
 - Quantity

 - Where more than one delivery is made, the last docket must be marked as 'FINAL'. This will allow the insets team to verify the correct number of inserts have been received.
